THE FRENCH NEUROSCIENCE SOCIETY IN BRIEF

1988

Founding of the association

more than 2,300 members

Our missions

- Promote Neuroscience research in France and across Europe
- Maintain the coherence of brain research across disciplines, geographical location and research organizations
- Organise scientific meetings for the general public and strengthen interactions between researchers
- Support young scientists, inform them and participate in their training
- Take part in discussions and reflections on the roles of neuroscience research in society.

OUR VALUES

SCIENTIFIC RIGOR
The nature of our mission requires scientific, moral and professional rigor.

INTEGRITY
We choose to be transparent and honest with the general public and our partners.

EXCELLENCE
We bring together research professionals who are experts in their fields.

SHARING
We meet and inform the general public on the advances in neuroscience.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION
We are committed to evolve, inform and educate our members in order to build a more equitable community enriched by its diversity.
We are signatory of the ALBA Network charter.

OUR ACTIONS

INITIATIVES FOR YOUNG RESEARCHERS
Every year, we award Thesis Prizes to recognize the work of young researchers and provide various forms of support.

We also organize career development and mentoring sessions.

MEETINGS
We organize meetings every year, including NeuroFrance in odd years, which attracts over 1,200 participants and nearly 40 exhibitions stands.

LA LETTRE DES NEUROSCIENCES
We publish an online journal, covering the diversity of disciplines and tracing the history of neuroscience.

THE BRAIN AWARENESS WEEK

For over 20 years, we have been coordinating the Brain Awareness Week, every year in March.
This event, organized in almost 120 cities across France, is aimed at raising public awareness on the importance of brain research.
The event is an opportunity for many research professionals to meet the public and share advances in neuroscience, presenting the issues at stake and the implications for our society.

BECOME A PARTNER

Your commitment is essential to carry out our actions.

We offer two types of partnership:

A long-term partnership to support all our activities.

An «à la carte» partnership to support an action particularly important to you (Brain Awareness Week, an action in favor of young researchers, reflections on the place of neuroscience in society...).

The partnership scheme includes the possibility of sponsorship and, consequently, tax exemption.
The financing provided by partner companies can be done through the Neurocitoyen endowment fund.
